

Guidelines Regarding Application for Membership in the College on Problems of Drug Dependence, Inc.

The College on Problems of Drug Dependence (CPDD) is an interdisciplinary research society whose members address problems of drug dependence in the broadest range of scientific disciplines, including chemistry, basic biology, pharmacology, neuroimmunology, behavioral science, psychiatry, clinical research, sociology, psychology, anthropology, history, epidemiology, and prevention.

General Guidelines for Membership

1. There are four levels of membership (described in more detail below):
 - a. Member-In-Training
 - b. Associate
 - c. Regular
 - d. Fellow
2. The Membership Committee reviews applications for membership and provides recommendations to the CPDD Board of Directors (BOD) regarding each applicant. Approval of Associate, Regular, and Fellow applications is by the BOD. Approval of Member-In-Training applications is by the Chair of the Membership Committee and occurs monthly. The Membership Committee uses the criteria provided below in assessing potential candidates for membership. In most cases, the potential candidate will have attended, authored presentations at, or otherwise participated in, several recent annual meetings or other activities of the CPDD.
3. The Membership Application is an online submission process that can be found on the Membership page of the CPDD website. All materials must be in English, or an English translation provided for relevant documents (for example, of abstracts for publications that have appeared in non-English language journals).
4. Annual dues for CPDD are $200.00 for Regular, Associate, and Fellow members, and $50.00 for Members-In-Training. Applicants should NOT enclose a payment with their application. They will be billed if their application is accepted. Membership begins upon receipt of annual dues.
5. Application submission deadlines for Associate, Regular, and Fellows occur six times each year and the current deadline is posted to the CPDD website on the Membership page. Applications for Members-In-Training can be submitted at any time and are reviewed monthly but must be received by March 1st to be considered for the discounted registration fee applicable to that year's Annual meeting.

Criteria for Membership and Other Information

1. Member-In-Training Membership
 - a. Criteria for Member-In-Training membership levels:
 - i. Candidates will be post-baccalaureate students who are enrolled in a program of study leading to an advanced degree, medical residents, or trainees in postdoctoral programs in a field related to research on problems of drug dependence who have not yet met criteria for

- ii. Prior attendance at one CPDD conference is not a requirement for Member-In-Training membership.
 - iii. Eligibility must be certified annually by a letter from the individual's faculty advisor, mentor, or institution. Membership eligibility will continue through the next year following the one in which an advanced degree is received, or until the postdoctoral training program is completed.
- b. Application process for Member-In-Training membership:
- i. The following documents should be submitted electronically via the CPDD Membership Application website:
 - a) Curriculum Vitae
 - b) Certification of trainee status by his/her faculty advisor
 - c) Statement of commitment and area(s) of primary research expertise as relates to the study of problems of drug dependence (250 words or less)
- c. Benefits associated with Member-In-Training membership levels:
- I. Receipt of CPDD mailings,
 - II. Access to CPDD electronic discussion lists,
 - III. Can sponsor the member's own first-authored abstract for the annual scientific meeting,
 - IV. Can access an electronic copy of the College's journal (Drug and Alcohol Dependence),
 - V. Can be appointed to committees of the College, and
 - VI. Discounted registration for annual scientific meeting.

Note: Member-In-Training level of membership does not have voting privileges.

2. Associate Membership

- a. Criteria for Associate membership level:
- i. The candidate shall have made significant contributions in a basic science, clinical research, or other scholarly field relevant to problems of drug dependence. For example, two (2) first-author publications in peer-reviewed basic science, clinical research or other scholarly journals that are related to problems of drug dependence may be used to fulfill this criterion. While scientific authorship in peer-reviewed journals may be the most common means for judging suitability for Associate membership, the College recognizes that other mechanisms can also indicate significant scientific contributions to the field (e.g., efforts within the government, publication of reports, advocacy for addictions research). The Credentials Committee shall exercise judgment in this regard, recognizing that not all papers or books represent equal contributions, and that authorship is not the sole indicator of scholarship.
 - ii. The extent of prior attendance and participation in CPDD conferences will be considered in evaluating a candidate's qualification for membership. Prior attendance at one CPDD conference is the minimum requirement for Associate membership. Applicants should not apply until after attending at least one annual meeting.

- iii. In most cases candidates will hold a terminal degree appropriate to their academic discipline, although unusually qualified persons who do not hold the terminal degree may be considered for this level of membership.
- b. Application process for Associate membership:
 - i. The following documents should be submitted electronically via the CPDD Membership Application website:
 - a) Curriculum Vitae
 - b) Links to first or senior author publications as required for membership level
 - c) A statement of commitment and area(s) of primary research expertise as relates to the study of problems of drug dependence (250 words or less)
- c. Benefits associated with Associate membership level:
 - i. Can attend and vote at the annual business meeting of the College.
 - ii. Can nominate members for the nominating committee.
 - iii. Receive an electronic subscription to the College's journal (Drug and Alcohol Dependence)
 - iv. Can be appointed to committees and run for all offices within the College.
 - v. Can access the Members Only section of the CPDD website.
 - vi. Discounted registration for annual scientific meeting.
 - vii. Receive CPDD mailings.
 - viii. Have access to CPDD electronic discussion

1. Regular Membership

- a. Criteria for Regular membership level:
 - i. The candidate shall have a meritorious record of publication in a basic science, clinical or other scholarly field related to problems of drug dependence. Examples of this criterion include at least ten (10) first author (or senior author) papers in peer-reviewed basic science, clinical research, or other scholarly journals appropriate to the candidate's field of interest, or first-authored (not edited) basic science, clinical research, or other scholarly books or monographs. While scientific authorship in peer-reviewed journals may be the most common means for judging suitability for Regular membership, the College recognizes that other mechanisms can also indicate significant scientific contributions to the field (e.g., efforts within the government, publication of reports, advocacy for addictions research). Thus, this criterion will be applied with reasonable judgment by the Credentials Committee, recognizing that not all papers or books represent equal contributions, and that authorship is not the sole indicator of scholarship. Either more or fewer publications may be required to meet this criterion.
 - ii. The extent of prior attendance and participation in CPDD conferences will be considered in evaluating a candidate's qualifications for membership. Prior attendance at one CPDD conference is the minimum requirement for Regular membership. Applicants should not apply until after attending at least one annual meeting.

- iii. In most cases, candidates will hold a terminal degree appropriate to his/her academic discipline, although unusually qualified persons who do not hold the terminal degree may be considered for this level of membership.
- iv. In special circumstances the Membership Committee may consider potential candidates who do not work in basic science, clinical research, or related scholarly fields. Examples would be those who have made clearly compelling commitments and contributions to research, education, or public service in problems of drug dependence, or persons whose community leadership or philanthropy contributed in an important way to alleviating problems of drug dependence.

b. Application process for Regular membership:

- i. The following documents should be submitted electronically via the CPDD Membership Application website:

- 1. Curriculum Vitae
- 2. Links to first or senior author publications as required for membership level
- 3. A statement of commitment and area(s) of primary research expertise as relates to the study of problems of drug dependence (250 words or less)

c. Benefits associated with Regular membership level:

- i. Can attend and vote at the annual business meeting of the College.
- ii. Can nominate members for the nominating committee.
- iii. Receive an electronic subscription to the College's journal (Drug and Alcohol Dependence)
- iv. Can be appointed to committees and run for all offices within the College
- v. Discounted registration for annual scientific meeting.
- vi. Can access the Members Only section of the CPDD website.
- vii. Receive CPDD mailings.
- viii. Access to CPDD electronic discussion lists.

3. Change from Associate to Regular Membership

- a. The criteria used to determine the appropriateness of a request for a change from the Associate category to the Regular membership level shall be the same as the above criteria for a new application to Regular membership (although letters of support may not be necessary, as noted below).
- b. Application process for change to Regular membership: Email your most current CV to the Executive Office at info@cpdd.org

Note: No letters of sponsorship are required.

4. Change from Member-In-Training to Associate or Regular Membership: The applicant must submit a complete application for Associate or Regular membership (through the CPDD website).

5. Fellow Membership
 - a. Criteria for Fellow membership level:
 - i. The Membership Committee shall judge suitability for fellow status based upon the following:
 - a) Outstanding service to the College,
 - b) Exceptional scientific achievement in the drug abuse field, and/or
 - c) Special and unique other accomplishments in some other aspect of drug abuse research or a related activity.
 - d) It should be recognized that this membership category is reserved for only those persons who are clearly highly distinguished in their contributions to the field and to the College.
 - b. Application process for Fellow membership:
 - i. Any Regular member or Fellow of CPDD can nominate a member of CPDD for Fellow status, and current members of CPDD can apply directly for Fellow status.
 - ii. Any Regular member or Fellow of CPDD can nominate a nonmember of CPDD for Fellow status, and a person who is not a member of the College can apply directly to become a Fellow of the College.
 - iii. In the case of a non-member applying or being nominated for Fellow status, the person will complete a membership application form.
 - c. Applicants should submit the following documents via the CPDD Membership Application website:
 - i. Letter of interest in becoming a Fellow of the College
 - ii. Curriculum Vitae
 - iii. Letters of Nomination from four sponsors who are current members of the College with at least 2 from Fellows of the College should be sent directly to the CPDD Executive Office (see General Guidelines above for content of letters and procedure for submitting).
 - d. Benefits associated with Fellow membership level are the same as those listed above for Regular members.
